EVENT SUMMARY - Aras Community Network International Event - Spring 2008

WOW! This year's Aras Community event on May 7th was even bigger and better than last year. Check out our blog post for a full summary with slide downloads and get a recap of the day.

We heard from businesses all over the world that are taking advantage of Aras Innovator. Companies of all sizes from multi-billion dollar global organizations to single site operations shared their business successes and plans with the audience.

Peter really got everyone fired up in the morning with a passionate speech on the advantages of collaborative participation and how totally new innovations are emerging because of the corporate community involvement.

The business presentations from XEROX, ACCO Brands, Esterline Aerospace & Defense, and The GSI Group demonstrated how companies across industries are able to use the open approach to achieve results that would not have been possible with conventional systems.

XEROX really pumped up the crowd with details on how they have used the open SOA to tie in with existing systems and create integrated workflows for managing complex changes across the company with...

AWARD - Collaborate & Contribute Recipients Announced

At the recent community event we recognized a select group of corporate community members for significant contributions over the past year with the Collaborate & Contribute award.

Collaborate & Contribute Recipients Hayes Lemmerz International received the award for the modular process planner improvement to the quality planning solution which makes it easy to reuse common operations across PPAP documentation structures. Broadway Consulting Services got the award for translating Aras Innovator into Traditional Chinese (Mandarin) and Simplified Chinese. Freudenberg in Germany received the award for their work on the Meeting Manager solution, one of the most popular community solutions. While only three community members / organizations receive the award each year, numerous others are making a difference with their innovative contributions. Everyone benefits from idea multiplier effect and we want to thank you for your participation.
