NEW TRAINING - Online Training for Aras Innovator at PLM-Training.com / i GET IT

You probably saw in last month's newsletter that we've been updating and expanding our curriculum for live in-person training. If you miss

Well, now in addition to that... our long time partner, Tom Gill of TAG Consulting, has started offering Aras Innovator online training tutorials GET IT.

The initial offerings include User Interface & Navigation and Administration. The purpose of these tutorials is to help new users get familiar

They are really useful for companies that are doing broad user rollouts, as well as, those that are conducting Aras evaluations.

Tom tells me that a number of additional tutorials, including a series for the Aras Solution, are currently under development and will be av

The online tutorials by PLM-Training.com are sold as annual subscriptions starting at $25.
